Albert I. King Endowed Scholarship

The Albert I. King endowed scholarships aim to assist academically outstanding students in the field of Biomedical Engineering who (a) encountered unexpected extraordinary hardship during their studies, or (b) have accomplished noteworthy achievements representing the Department of Biomedical Engineering. The application is open year round.

Past recipients of this scholarships include those who had unexpected loss of personal properties, special health problems, and those who won the best paper awards in technical conferences.

Students who qualified for this scholarship are encouraged to fill the application form below or e-mail Professor King H. Yang at aa0007@wayne.edu for a DOC format application form.

Submit your application to 2208 Bioengineering Building for consideration.
