Biography

Professor Jing Tang received her Ph.D. degree in Electrical Engineering from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign and was a postdoctoral fellow in Radiology at the John Hopkins School of Medicine. She was employed as a principle imaging physicist at Philips Healthcare before joining the Electrical and Computer Engineering Department at Oakland University as an assistant professor. Her research has been on the development and application of acquisition, reconstruction, and analysis techniques in PET and SPECT imaging and also in multimodality imaging such as PET/MRI.