Transformative Research in Urban Sustainability Training
A graduate training program that trains students to foster innovation in urban sustainability

Smart Management of Microplastic Pollution in the Great Lakes
This study looks into methods to reduce microplastic pollution through technology, outreach, and mitigation

NSF: Field Stations and Marine Labs along the Huron to Erie Corridor
Field stations dedicated to Great Lakes water research